CITY TRUSTEES

Ordinance Proposed to Tax Heavy Teams—Monthly Reports Received

Chairman Watson absent. Other members present, Mr. Tower having returned from his vacation. Mr. Tower was elected chairman pro tem. Demands were presented and referred. Monthly reports were received from city officers.

Among the recommendations received in the street superintendent's report was one to the effect that something be done to provide for the storm water from Sycamore canyon. Mr. Coker thought something should be done in regard to this matter. The city engineer reported that he had recently obtained a deed from C. V. Brown at First and Verdugo road, and was prepared to make a recommendation in regard to the matter, which was temporarily laid on the table. Another recommendation, in regard to reconstructing culverts on Brand boulevard, brought an opinion from the engineer to the effect that temporary repairs should be made, as affairs on the boulevard with regard to the Pacific Electric were likely to be put in good shape soon, and when that comes to pass, permanent work will be done. Culverts should be made much larger, as they are at present inadequate. The street superintendent was instructed to make repairs to the culverts. A thousand dollars was taken from other funds and put into the street fund.

The electric light manager reported that he was receiving applications for electricity for heaters, and recommended a four-cent rate. No action.

Mr. Damerell of the park commission called attention to the expiration of the options on property for park purposes. No action.

Mr. Henderson called attention to an establishment on Geneva street that he thought was intended for a planing mill. He protested against allowing these industrial concerns outside of a limited district. Matter referred.

The report of the building inspector showed permits for the month of August amounting to $65,109.

An ordinance prohibiting the hitching of horses to lamp posts, etc., was adopted, as was an ordinance adopting a grade for Riverdale drive and Doran street.

The street superintendent reported in regard to the upper end of Verdugo road and the delay in improving about 400 feet of roadway along the front of the Thom property. The board was of the opinion that the matter had been delayed long enough. There was considerable discussion over the condition of Central avenue. The engineer reported that proceedings for its improvement would be started next week. Glendale avenue above First street was also discussed and the necessity for its improvement insisted upon. On motion of Mr. Lane, the engineer was instructed to take the matter up with Mr. Thom of securing a deed to land necessary for opening and improving the road.

Mr. Lane made a motion instructing the city attorney to prepare an ordinance levying a tax on teams used for heavy hauling over Glendale streets; adopted. The garbage matter came in for considerable discussion at this time; referred to public works committee. Mr. Coker made a motion instructing the street superintendent to clean off the lot about the city hall. A resolution of intention to improve a portion of Verdugo road was read and adopted. A resolution adopting specifications for the above improvement was adopted.

GOLD AND WHITE WEDDING.

On Saturday evening, August 31st, at 8 o'clock, the marriage ceremony of Gladys Elnora Thresher, daughter of Arthur W. Thresher of Los Angeles, to Ray Edgar Goode was solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Goode of Cedar street.

Decorations were composed entirely of gold and white, with masses of golden rod, golden glow and delicate greenery, interspersed with myriads of tiny white wedding bells.

The ceremony was performed in a bower of flowers. The bride was accompanied by Miss Amelia Orsi of Los Angeles and the groom by Mr. Fletcher Pomeroy of North Glendale. Following the ceremony supper was served on the large veranda which was prettily lighted with Japanese lanterns. Table decorations were carried out in pink and green, masses of pink dahlias making an effective arrangement.

After a brief honeymoon in San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Goode returned to Glendale. They will be at home to their friends on September 10th at their residence on Second and Kenwood streets.

Sunday school opens again. All departments of the Christian Sunday school will be open for business next Sunday. Teachers are urged to write, telephone or otherwise inform all their pupils to be on hand promptly at 9:30 a. m. A handsome teachers' Bible will be presented to the teacher who has the largest percentage of his or her class present. So get busy. As an additional attraction we are to have some fine violin music by Master Harold Gerber of Boise, Idaho, accompanied on the piano by his mother.

TO WHOM IT IS DUE

By their verdict Tuesday the voters of this assembly district decided that a question of national scope is of greater importance to them than any or all local issues that may come before the next legislature in this state. They also decided that a representative backed by a political organization of their faith is preferable to an independent one. The result as far as the assembly is concerned is perfectly satisfactory to the undersigned, who is in no way disappointed, having foreseen from the beginning that the candidate without an effective organization to work for him, and without the expenditure of a large amount of time and money, has scarcely a fighting chance of success. In view of the prevalence of political sentiment to which he is opposed, the vote received is considered highly complimentary, and his thanks are hereby extended to all who supported him, knowing that their motive in doing so, whether personal or political, is deserving of the deep appreciation which is hereby expressed.

J. C. SHERER.

BUILDING PERMITS.

The following is reported in the building line by City Building Inspector J. M. Banker:

Seven new homes, to cost about $2000 each and to contain five rooms each, with bath and screen porch are being erected by the Commonwealth Home Builders up near the Casa Verdugo section. These homes will comprise many novel and unique features and will be erected for sale. They will be located as follows: Four on Myrtle street, and three on Alexander street near Remington. This Remington street section is building up very fast.

Permits have been issued as follows:

G. J. Stanton, corner Chestnut street and Brand boulevard, two-story brick structure to be used as a store building with store room on the main floor and housekeeping apartments above. This building will cost about $2500.

Mrs. Walter C. Fraley will soon start on the erection of two small homes which she will rent, at the corner of Third street and Dayton court, these to cost about $800 each and to contain four rooms. W. J. Reeve has given O. F. Scherer a contract for a five-room cottage at the corner of Central avenue and Pioneer Drive to cost about $1500.

August Schilder is erecting a small cottage to cost about $500 at the corner of Second and Howard streets.

J. M. Ward will soon begin work on a bungalow at the corner of Second and Jackson streets to cost something like $2500. This home will be modern in every respect. R. P. Foss has taken out a permit for a pretty residence at 1454 Salem street, to cost about $1500.

G. H. Barager will soon start work on a small place at 616 South Adams street to cost about $900.

May Bros. are preparing plans for a one-story brick building on Broadway between Louise and Kenwood streets for H. A. Wilson. The building will cost about $8000 and contain eight apartments.

Annie and Mary Ann Thompson have contracted with P. B. Fletcher for a five-room cottage to be erected on Tenth street in the Borthick tract at a cost of $1350.

IMPORTANT PURCHASE AND BUILDING PROJECT.

The First National Bank has purchased of T. A. Wright the southeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway, fronting 100 feet on the former and 26 feet on the latter street. A two-story block will be erected thereon and the bank removed to the new building when completed. A savings bank under the management of the directors of the First National will be established in the rooms now occupied by the bank. Mr. Wright, owning the adjoining two lots on the east, will also build to conform to the corner building.

PRESBYTERIAN BROTHERHOOD.

The monthly meeting was held on Tuesday night last. There was a fair attendance. After the preliminary business, the Brotherhood listened to a short program of music, piano solo by Mr. George Ketterling, and two selections by the Brotherhood Quartet, consisting of Mr. Gail Edmiston, Wm. Harrison, Mr. Buck and Glenn Porter. Mr. Frederick Baker addressed the Brotherhood on "The Freeholders' Charter," giving the men some points of difference between that kind of a charter and the city of the sixth class. Refreshments were served by the social committee, of which Mr. H. L. Howe is chairman.

The Summer Conference of Sunday School Workers will be held at the First Congregational church in Los Angeles, 841 South Hope street, Thursday and Friday of this week.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

A Very Light Vote Polled—"Progressive" Wave Sweeps the Field—The Lissner Organization Program Generally Approved—The Results by Precincts in this Section

In the city of Glendale, Tuesday last, seven hundred and twenty-nine voters out of a total of over two thousand took the trouble to go to the polls and express themselves. If this indicated anything, it is that the people are getting tired of politics and are willing that the professionals shall have a monopoly of the game. Everything passed off quietly and good-naturedly, there being at no time anything like a crowd surrounding the polling places. The Progressives had workers at every precinct, some of them contributing their services and others working for a stipend. The other parties put up no organized fight, in one or two of the precincts candidates for delegates being the only ones taking much interest in the proceedings. There were some irregularities as far as the strict letter of the law was concerned in regard to the soliciting of votes within the prescribed one hundred feet, and at some of the polling places campaign literature, particularly of the "Progressive" kind, was allowed close to the polling booth, and occasionally within, but there was nothing to prevent a fair expression of the voters' opinions. A few voters lost their votes through improper registration.

COUNTRY CLUB COMPLIMENTARY DANCE.

Miss Emma Williams and Mr. Harry Petersen were honored guests at the dancing party given Friday evening by the Country Club and the Maids and Matrons in the Country Club parlors. Decorations were most artistically carried out in gold and white tulle with masses of golden glow and golden rod. Dancing programs were heavily embossed with the letters W and P, the same idea being carried out in the refreshments, tiny heart-shaped cakes, bearing the initials of the honored guests. A large number of guests were present, many of whom were from out of town.

EARLY AUTUMN DINNER PARTY.

Red and white asters and ferns were used in a pretty way at the delightfully arranged dinner party given on Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Milford at their home, 1219 West First street. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Kinney and Miss Riffa Kinney of Seventh street, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eudemiller of Brand boulevard, Miss Jane Wolfe, Miss Katherine Wolfe of West First street, Mrs. Kelly of Brand boulevard, Mr. and Mrs. G. Eggleft of Eagle Rock and Mr. Kunte Rahnn of Glendale.

VALLEY PICNIC.

The Valley Picnic under the auspices of the Old Settlers' Association will be held this year on Saturday, Sept. 21st at Somerset Farm, Verdugo road and Ninth street, Glendale. While Old Settlers are expected to turn out as a matter of course, a cordial invitation is extended to others, all of whom will be welcomed. Bring a basket luncheon.

Mrs. J. N. Witham has been seriously ill for the past week, but is slowly recovering.

EXPERTING THE WATER SYSTEMS

Light Department Manager Mr. H. B. Lynch has been busy for the past few days with Mr. C. S. Burns, the exeprt employed by the trustees in going over the private water systems in Glendale, making a thorough investigation of their condition with a view of putting a valuation upon them and getting a recommendation from Mr. Burns who has high standing as an expert. This in accordance with a resolution passed by a public meeting asking for the employment of an expert, an idea which seems to have been in accord with the views of the trustees. The report to be furnished by Mr. Burns will give estimated cost of improving the systems with a view to increasing their capacity and furnishing fire protection.

Mr. Burns is a member of the firm of Burns and McDonnell, specialists on municipal water systems. The bill for this service will be $1,000.

It is the intention of the trustees to give the fullest information to the people before bringing the question of a bond issue to a vote.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 24.—The predictions of state printer Friend W. Richardson that there would be a shortage of school books has been fulfilled. Notice has been sent to book dealers that there is a shortage of introductory histories and English lessons.

Several months ago Richardson called the attention of the text book committee to the importance of putting in orders for school books during the summer months when work was slack. Little attention was paid to the request and employes were laid off and some of the machinery in the state bindery shut down. Richardson told the committee that in the fall there would be a big rush of political and other printing.

Now the predictions have come true. There is a shortage of books and the plant is crowded with other work. A 32-page pamphlet of the constitutional amendments and initiative propositions must be printed in an edition of 1,500,000. Besides this there is the blue book, reports of officers and much other work.

Richardson said today: "There is no good reason why there should ever be a shortage of school bookzs and I regret very much that there is now. I have no authority to print school books without an order from the text book committee although many of the dealers seem to think the state printer is responsible for the shortage. My duty is solely that of a manufacturer."

PETER PAN HOME CHILDREN ARE ENTERTAINED.

At the home of Mrs. Fanny Briggs Carr on East Sixth St. last Saturday twenty four children from the Peter Pan Home on the San Fernando Road, Los Angeles, were given a happy days outing. After the good things to eat that were liberally provided for them, the feature that probably added most to the happiness of the youngsters, was access to the swimming pool where they amused themselves for an hour or two in the water having come provided with improvised bathing suits for the occasion. The children of both sexes ranged from sixteen years downward and the day will no doubt be a red letter one in their memory for a long time. Mrs. Brusch the director and moving spirit of the institution was present with her charges and aided Mrs. Carr in the task of entertaining. Mrs. Brusch informed the reporter that the home was started by her about two years ago and is kept going by contributions to the good cause which come to her according to the daily needs. The children are as a rule unfortunates who have been deserted by their parents and are noticeably of a better class than the general run of such institutions. They are apparently well cared for and happy.

Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery of Kenwood street left Tuesday on the Harvard for San Francisco. They will be house guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith of Berkeley and will visit the points of interest in the vicinity of San Francisco, after which they will complete their vacation sojourn at Lake Tahoe.

At the meeting of Glendale Lodge No. 304 of The Fraternal Brotherhood to be held Friday evening, Sept. 6th, the Supreme Secretary, H. V. Davis, will be present to explain fully all the new plans, options and rates. Every member is urged to be present.

The Kitchen Cupboard

WHEN COOKING CAULIFLOWER.

CAULIFLOWER lovers find their favorite vegetables, like cabbages, now abundant. In selecting a cauliflower see that the leaves are firm and green and the head perfectly white. When preparing the vegetable for cooking clean it by soaking in salt water for an hour, every part being covered. Some persons when boiling cauliflower put it in a bag.

Cauliflower Soup.

Cauliflower soup is a dish unknown in most households, yet there is no reason why it should not be popular. Boil the cauliflower in water or in stock to which has been added an onion stuck with four whole cloves, a small red pepper, a sprig of parsley and a tablespoonful of peppercorns.

Skim all the time the cauliflower is boiling. When cooked remove the cauliflower from the pot. Set aside a cupful of the flowerets, which should be carefully broken off the cauliflower, and mash the remainder, forcing it through a coarse sieve. Strain the liquid in which the cauliflower was boiled.

Melt a tablespoonful of butter, stir into it a tablespoonful of flour, then combine this with the soup. Add a pint of hot milk, a little grated nutmeg, salt and pepper to taste, an egg well beaten and the mashed cauliflower. Stir well and set on the fire to heat. Add the unbroken flowers and serve very hot.

Cauliflower and Cream.

Boiled cauliflower can be served with cream or hollandaise sauce. It may be covered with grated cheese and cracker crumbs, with a dash of melted butter, and baked. When cold the cauliflower may be separated into small pieces and served with mayonnaise dressing.

A dainty luncheon dish may be prepared as follows: Take a boiled cauliflower. Break off the flowerets and place them in a cup.

Add to the boiled cauliflower three tablespoonfuls of butter and allow to simmer in a saucepan over the fire for fifteen minutes. Add a half cupful of oyster liquor, half a cupful of cracker crumbs, salt and pepper to taste, half a cupful of cream and a pint of oysters. Add the oysters after the liquid has boiled and remove from the fire as soon as the edges curl. Serve on toast or in crescents of puff paste.

Anna Thompson

Zeke Knew Rufe.

Rufe was telling Zeke about a terrible escapade he had had the night before after he had crossed the dam at the river and was making for his cabin about a half mile through the dark woods.

"And jest as I stepped inter de brush I hears a funny noise like a shote snortin'. I looks up an' a blue light jumps out er de groun' an' shapes itself into a ghost about six foot tall. Red fire was aflickerin' out er its nose. It stood still kinder, then lifted a long bony finger an' says, 'I want you, Rufe Jackson.'

"I walks up to it an' shakes my own finger right in its face. 'You mind yore business an' I'll mind mine,' I says an' turns on my heel an' goes right on.

"Now, what'd you er done, Zeke, in a case like dat?"

"I'd er done jest what you done, you durned lyin' nigger."—St. Louis Republic.

Ducks and Water.

Many things are said to be as natural as ducks taking to water, but a French writer tells of ducks that hated water. There were three of them, and they had lived some years in Paris, where they had their daily bath in a small basin. Their owner finally took them to the country to live beside a fine lake. He was surprised at putting them into the lake to see them instantly scramble ashore and wabble to a neighboring stable, whence they never came out except to feed. Never could they be induced to remain in the water save by force or fear, and when there they always drew closely together, so as to occupy no more space than their bath basin in Paris. They were thoroughly afraid of the lake, and they never became used to it.

Feminine Mind.

They lived in a little town adjacent to Pittsburgh. Hubby was trying to jolly wifey along and make her forget that she wanted a new suit.

"Now," said he, "the town committee is offering a prize for the prettiest lawn."

"What is that to me?"

"Why don't you enter the contest?"

"You know I haven't had a lawn in five years. I haven't even a gingham that is fit to wear."

Moral.—You can't take their minds off the subject of dress.—Pittsburgh Post.

Caesar's Appearance.

Julius Caesar was a thin man, tall and with a very wrinkled, seamy countenance. His forehead was broad and full of wrinkles. His eyes were not large, but described as exceedingly bright and quick. His nose was of more than usual size and his chin full and prominent. He walked with a slight, scholarly stoop in his shoulders. His ears stood out well from his head, and his hair was always cut close. Early in life he became bald.

Showing Off the Author.

One day the Rev. Mark Guy Pearse, in a tramp through Cornwall, came to a little village in which a tea meeting was going on. Mr. Pearse entered the little chapel and joined in the tea. He was in the most unclerical of costumes, which was an act of sense on his part, but during the progress of tea one or two of the "leaders" managed to recognize him, whereupon one of them approached him and said in an anxious whisper:

"Be you the Rev. Mark Guy Pearse?"

"Yes—I be," he answered.

"I thought as how you was. Now, do you see, we want to raise a little money, and a thought have struck us. Do 'ee just come out quiet like and say nothing to nobody, and then we will put 'ee in the vestry, and we will go into the chapel and say, 'The Rev. Mark Guy Pearse, author of "Daniel Quorum," is in the vestry and can be seed at threepence each, the proceeds to go for the good of the cause."—London Answers.

The Top Hat In Sculpture.

The statue of Alfred de Musset, placed some years ago at Neuilly, just outside the Porte Maillot (Paris), represents the poet in the outdoor costume of his epoch, holding a silk hat in one hand. Personally I infinitely prefer this "dandy Musset" to the huge and cumbersome group outside the Comedie Francaise or the enormous composition in relief on the Cours-la-Reine. Musset is perhaps the only individual—certainly the only poet—who has three statues in Paris. The most remarkable effort in this line which I have noticed is the large equestrian statue of Mr. Sawbridge in front of the principal entrance to Olantigh towers, near Wye, Kent. I fancy he was a lord mayor, and, seated on a prancing steed, he is holding an early Victorian top hat about eighteen inches in front of his brow. A tight frock coat completes the tout ensemble.—London Notes and Queries.

One Didn't Count.

A local official, at a dinner in Philadelphia, praised the Quaker City ardently.

"I must even praise," he said with a smile, "our exclusiveness—we carry it so far, you know. Birth is not enough with us; residence is equally important, and they who live above Market street are doomed. Here, surely, is exclusiveness with a vengeance.

"They tell a story about a dinner in Rittenhouse square. At this dinner, as the fish course began, one woman whispered to another:

"'Dear me, there are thirteen at table!'

"But the other woman smiled and answered calmly:

"'Compose yourself, my dear Mrs. Cadbiddleder Waddle. Mrs. North-Broad is not really one of us. She lives uptown, you know.'"—Exchange.

A Hostess and an Emergency.

Lady K. had sent Parnell an invitation to dinner, but Charles, who was very absentminded with respect to social functions and unconventional in the extreme, had forgotten the right date of the party. He therefore turned up a couple of evenings afterward an hour before the time. Lady K., glad to have him on any terms, did not undeceive him as to his error, but hastily sent off several notes explaining the situation and asking some of her most intimate friends to help her in her emergency. She also ordered a hastily improvised dinner from a near caterer's.—"Life of Parnell."

A Natural Query.

The late General F. D. Grant, when discussing military neatness, used often to tell a story about his father.

"My father was talking to General Sherman in his tent one day," he would begin, "when a third general entered, a brigadier notorious for his slovenliness. After the brigadier left my father blew forth a cloud of smoke and said:

"'Sherman, I wonder whom that man gets to wear his shirts the first week?'"

Naming a Book.

It is not generally known how Kipling chose the title "The Light That Failed" for the book that helped to make him famous. He had almost decided to call the novel "The Failure," although he was somewhat dissatisfied with this rather prosaic title. One evening as he was sitting in his study reading by lamplight the light went down suddenly, when Kipling exclaimed:

"By Jove, I've got it! 'The Light That Failed!'"

Gilded Pets.

"Riches," said the ready made philosopher, "have wings, disturb our rest and require constant care."

"I suppose so," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "but human nature is human nature, and we will keep on wanting dollars the same as women want dogs and canary birds."—Washington Star.

A Man of His Word.

"Well, old man, did Binks keep his word and share his last dollar with you?" asked Hodgkins.

"Yes," sighed Downanout. "He did, but he'd made the same promise to twenty others, and all I got was a nickel."—Harper's.

Culinary Ignorance.

Mrs. Kaller—Cooks are such ignorant things nowadays. Mrs. Justwed—Aren't they? They can't do the simplest things. I asked mine to make some sweetbreads the other day, and she said she couldn't.—McCall's Magazine.

Sensitive.

Dentist—We must kill the nerve of that tooth. Patient—Then I will go out of the room. I'm too tender hearted to witness it.—Meggendorfer Blatter.

Pursuant to Statute and to Resolution No. 500 of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, adopted the 5th day of August, 1912, directing this notice, the undersigned invites and will receive at his office, in the City Hall, 575 West Fourth Street, up to 7:30 p.m. of Monday, the 16th day of September, 1912, sealed proposals or bids for the following street work to be done according to the specifications and plans adopted for the said work, on file, to-wit:

First. That that portion of Vine Street from the West line of Central Avenue to the Easterly line of San Fernando Road, including all intersections of streets, be graded and oiled in accordance with plans and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer and specifications for the grading and oiling of streets on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 10, excepting that in addition to said specifications No. 10 there shall be incorporated into the roadway a layer of gravel two and one-half (2½) inches thick in the center tapering uniformly to a thickness of one inch at the curb line, of which the maximum pieces will pass through a 2½-inch ring and the minimum pieces will not pass through a ½-inch ring, in the following manner: When the roadway is ready for the final coating of oil as called for in said specifications, the gravel as above specified shall then be evenly spread over the entire surface and rolled into said roadway, and then completed as provided for in specifications number 10.

Second. That a cement curb be constructed along both lines of the roadway of said Vine Street from the West line of Central Avenue to the Easterly line of San Fernando Road, including returns at all street intersections, excepting along such portions of the roadway of said Vine Street along which a cement curb has already been constructed to the official line and grade, in accordance with the specifications for the construction of cement curbs on file in the office of the City Clerk of the said City of Glendale, said specifications being numbered 2.

Third. That a cement walk five (5) feet in width be constructed along each line of said Vine Street from the West line of Central Avenue to the Easterly line of San Fernando Road, including returns at all street intersections, excepting along such portions of said Vine Street upon which a cement walk four (4) feet or more in width has already been constructed to the official line and grade, said sidewalk to be constructed in accordance with Specifications for the construction of cement sidewalks, on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, said Specifications being numbered 1.

Sec. 2. That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale find upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer of said City of Glendale, that the total cost of said proposed work of improvement will be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, as hereinbefore set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage; and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall be extended over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the 2nd day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July respectively of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled, "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27th, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto, or amendatory thereof.

Bidders must file with each proposal or bid, a check payable to the order of the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall not be less than ten per cent. of the aggregate of the proposal, or a bond for the said amount and so payable, signed by the bidder and two sureties, who shall justify before any officer competent to administer oaths, for double the said amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. In bidding use blanks which will be furnished by the City Clerk upon application.

GLENDALE, CAL., SEPTEMBER 6, 1912

And now Dr. Wiley, the pure food man, has dared to put our ex-president at the head of his own Ananias club. Go slowly, Doc, you are getting into a class with those awful Penrose and Guggenheim fellows!

The city trustees are now engaged in the preparation of a pamphlet on the water question which will probably be in the hands of the voters in about a fortnight. All attainable facts will be clearly set forth, so that voters may not plead ignorance in regard to this important matter.

The improvement of Verdugo road is now almost completed from the south city limits to Third street, and the contractor, Mr. Ferry, is rushing the work through on the north end. It is a fine job, apparently, and will make this one of the most beautiful drives through the valley. In this connection it is of interest to know that Supervisor Pridham has promised to take up at once with the Los Angeles city authorities the question of improving this highway from the San Fernando road to Glendale city limits, something which should be done at once, as it is an important link in the great foothill route of county highways from the foothills to the sea.

Mr. Marshal Stimson has all the earmarks of being the incarnation of one of a class of political teachers who flourished in Greece some two thousand years ago and were known as Sophists. Their specialty was the building up of an argument so as to lead the one who heard it to a false conclusion. Mr. Stimson's talents just now are being devoted to an attempt to prove that the Progressives who have left the Republican party are still in it, that a part is greater than the whole, that the tail is the important part of the elephant, and so forth, and he performs with a mental skill that seems quite satisfactory to himself and an occasional audience that thinks it thinks. Mr. Stimson's attempt at syllogism is about thus: The national Republican party is not a legal body; the action of the national convention was immoral, therefore there is no reason legal or moral why the Republican party of California should recognize the authority of the national convention. Now is not that plain enough Somebody in Chicago said that the Republican party is not a legal body and Mr. Stimson in California says it is not a moral body. It is very plain that the Republican party does not and never did exist, it is not only a delusion but a dream. Mr. Stimson has the state's-rights bug very bad, he insists that there is no national Republican party, it is only a combination of state units and every separate state is supreme! The supreme state of California, represented by Mr. Lissner, Mr. Stimson, et al., says to the national Republican party, "Begone—avaunt—scat! But leave us your raiment, we need it in our business."

DEMOCRATIC OR REPRESENTATIVE?

Once we heard a preacher make a plea for liberal contributions, about to this effect: "Now you business men are in your offices and on the street six days in the week. You have only a chance to practice religion on the seventh day. But the preacher works seven days in the week to save your souls. You can well afford to be liberal to the church." There is the germ of a valuable idea here; possibly there may be some objections on the part of some people who fancy that they have to work out their own salvation, to applying this idea practically to religion. But there need be no argument urged against the application of it to political affairs. The more the people try to get down to a really democratic government, the further they seem to get away from it. President Taft is unpopular in certain localities just now, but it is pertinent in this connection to quote his words as nearly as we can remember them: they are to the effect that "this is a government of the people by a representative portion of the people," and even at the risk of anathema in certain quarters the belief may here be expressed that the words are true. The people are trying to govern themselves, but really they have no time to do it well. Try as seriously as possible, the average voter at best goes into the voting booth and stamps his ballot hit or miss. He does not know in many cases a single person for whom he votes; he takes his choice on the recommendation of somebody else, and the other person is voting through him, using him even if unintentionally as the medium of his own desires. In many cases the voter takes the recommendation of a political organization as his guide and does not question the motive of the organization. Elections come around rather frequently nowadays, but if there is going to be a real democracy, the business has only begun. If President Taft is wrong in his description of our government, it devolves upon us to prove it by having elections on every matter of little or great importance, else we cannot prove that he is wrong, and that would be really dreadful!

But we cannot do this and continue to do our ordinary day's work at the same time, hence the appropriateness of the remarks of the preacher. Let us have a voters commission composed of men and women whose business it shall be to keep posted on political affairs, study principles, parties and candidates and then tell us who to vote for! It is obviously impossible for us to do this work and do it well. There are a lot of talented beings in chairs of political economy and at large who are admirably adapted to this work and who could be secured as advisers upon subjects political and we could afford to pay them well, infallible political knowledge is worth money! But, says the scoffer, why not have them do the voting and save us the trouble? Sure enough, why not! Oh yes, we remember, that would be voting through representatives—it would not be the real democracy!

SUPERFLUOUS THINGS.

The soul when accustomed to superfluous things acquires a strong habit of desiring others which are neither necessary for the preservation of the individual nor for that of the species. This desire is without limit, while things which are necessary are few and restricted within certain bounds. Lay this well to heart. Reflect on it again and again. That which is superfluous is without end and therefore the desire for it also without limit. Thus you desire to have your vessel of silver, but gold vessels are still better. Others have even vessels studded with sapphires, emeralds or rubies. Those therefore who are ignorant of this truth—that the desire for superfluous things is without limit—are constantly in trouble and pain. They expose themselves to great dangers by sea voyages or in the service of kings. When they thus meet with the consequences of their course they complain of the judgments of God. They go so far as to say that God's power is insufficient because he has given to this universe the properties which they imagine cause these evils.—Maimonides.

FREEDOM.

Hereditary bondsmen, know ye not
Who would be free themselves must strike the blow?
—Byron.

Freedom has a thousand charms to show
That slaves, howe'er contented, never know.
—Cowper.

My angel—his name is Freedom.
Choose him to be your king.
He shall cut pathways east and west
And fend you with his wing.
—Emerson.

Yes, to this thought I hold with firm persistence;
The last result of wisdom stamps it true—
He only earns his freedom and existence
Who daily conquers them anew.
—Goethe.

That bawl for freedom in their senseless mood
And still revolt when truth would set them free.
License they mean when they cry liberty.
—Milton.

NECESSITY OF DIVORCE.

The church has long made a bugaboo of divorce. In theory I do not believe in it; in practice it is at present a seemingly necessary modus vivendi. But we need not be discouraged over the large number of divorces, for it indicates that we have outgrown the old ideal of marriage and that we are reaching, if somewhat blindly, after a new and finer marital ideal.—Dr. R. M. Binder, Lecturer at New York University.

BRAHMA.

If the red slayer think he slays,
Or if the slain think he is slain,
They know not well the subtle ways
I keep and pass and turn again.

Far or forgot to me is near;
Shadow and sunlight are the same;
The vanished gods to me appear,
And one to me are shame and fame.

They reckon ill who leave me out.
When me they fly I am the wings.
I am the doubter and the doubt,
And I the hymn the Brahman sings.

The strong gods pine for my abode,
And pine in vain the sacred seven.
But thou, meek lover of the good,
Find me and turn thy back on heaven.
—Emerson.

Stable Flies Caught Over One Cow In a Single Day

"PLEASE KILL THAT FLY!"

And You Will Have More Milk, For and Less Disease in the Family.

THE MESSENGER OF DEATH.

A Fly in the House Is as Dangerous as a Rattlesnake.

No longer can we dismiss the fly with a contemptuous "Shoo!" He is an influence to be reckoned with. Black as he is painted, we must concede him certain virtues. From a wordly point of view he is a hustler "from way back," perpetually on the job and always delivers the goods.

He distributes samples of pestilence with a lavish hand, and the goods always match the samples whether you have ordered them or not and are marked D. O. D.—Death on Delivery.

We may admire the fly for his industry, pertinacity and business enterprise. We may even love him—luke warmly—as one of God's creatures, but we had better wipe him gently but firmly out of existence, just the same. Flies, like Artemus Ward's injuns, "is pizen wherever found."

He is the best traveling salesman known to humanity—carries a grip on each of his six legs and a trunk on his head. His line of samples is the most extensive and longest known and will last you not merely from this year to next, but from time to eternity.

A fly in the house is as dangerous as a rattlesnake, as filthy as a louse and as disgraceful as a bedbug. The time will come when any modern, cleanly home will feel itself shamed and disgraced by the presence of a fly, and when every householder upon whose premises a brood of flies is detected will be heavily fined or sent to jail.—Woods Hutchinson, M. D., in Fly Fighter.

DR. DRYASDUST AND DR. UPTODATE

WE all remember the preacher of the good old days who went up to twenty-fifthly and who seldom got nearer to the present day than Moses. That type of minister is passing out.

OF RECENT YEARS THE PASTOR IS TALKING OF PRESENT DAY PROBLEMS AND HELPING HIS FLOCK SOLVE THE QUESTIONS THAT CONFRONT THE WORLD NOW.

HE READS THE PAPERS. He knows what is going on. He sees the finger of the divine writing history in our own time. He finds inspiration in world movements.

HE DOES NOT READ HIS BIBLE LESS, BUT HIS NEWSPAPER MORE, THAN DID THE PREACHER OF THE OLD SCHOOL.

The press can help the pulpit, the pulpit in turn can help the press, and both can help you. TAKE THE HOME PAPER.

BEGIN SCHOOL DAYS AT TWELVE.

Without schools, without schoolteachers, without schoolbooks, without school discipline, a boy at the age of twelve could acquire in six months without cramming all that it now takes six years to drill into him. Talking baby talk to a six-months-old infant won't make the child talk any earlier, and there is nothing the mother can do to make her child walk before his legs are strong enough to carry him. It is unwise to hurry nature. In these early years fresh air and healthy physical exercise are far more valuable than all the schooling. The brain will grow, as the boy does, without forcing. Even the child of the tenement is better off out of school than in school. If any home can be more unhygienic than the average overcrowded schoolroom, with its foul air and cramping desks, there is at least the street for the child to play and grow in, and, with all its dangers, the public street is better than the public school room.—Dr. Woods Hutchinson.

A RESOLUTION OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE CITY OF GLENDALE DECLARING ITS INTENTION TO IMPROVE A PORTION OF VERDUGO ROAD.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:

SECTION 1. That the public interest and convenience require and it is the intention of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, State of California, to order the following street work to be done in said City, to-wit:

First—That all that portion of Verdugo Road from a line drawn across said Verdugo Road from the most Westerly corner of Lot 85 of Watts' Subdivision of a part of the Rancho San Rafael as per map recorded in Book 5, pages 200-201, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, said line forming a right angle with the Westerly line of said Lot 85, to the Easterly prolongation across Verdugo Road of the Northerly line of that certain 25.3 acres of land shown as belonging to the "Estate of C. E. Thom" on map filed in District Court Case No. 1621 of Los Angeles County, (excepting such portion of said street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon) be graded, oiled and macadamized in accordance with the plan and profile on file in the office of the City Engineer, and Special Specifications for grading, oiling and macadamizing said portion of Verdugo Road on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, which said Special Specifications were duly adopted for said work, by Resolution No. 514 by the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

Second—That a cement curb be constructed along each line of the roadway of said Verdugo Road from a line drawn across said Verdugo Road from the most Westerly corner of Lot 85 of Watts' Subdivision of a part of the Rancho San Rafael as per map recorded in Book 5, pages 200-201, of Miscellaneous Records of Los Angeles County, California, said line forming a right angle with the Westerly line of said Lot 85, to the Easterly prolongation across Verdugo Road of the Northerly line of that certain 25.3 acres of land shown as belonging to the "Estate of C. E. Third—That a culvert shall be constructed across Verdugo Road at a point 245 feet northerly from the most Westerly corner of aforementioned Lot 85 of Watts' Subdivision, in accordance with Special Plans and Specifications for the construction of said culverts on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Glenlade, which Special Plans and Specifications were duly adopted for said work by Resolution No. 513 by the Board of Trustees of said City.

SECTION 2. That the said Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale finds upon estimates directed to be furnished and furnished by the City Engineer of said City of Glendale, that the total cost of said proposed work or improvement will be greater than fifty (50) cents per front foot along each line of said street so proposed to be improved, as hereinbefore set forth, including the cost of intersection work assessable upon said frontage; and said Board of Trustees determines that serial bonds shall be issued to represent the cost of said work or improvement; said serial bonds shall be extended over a period ending nine (9) years from and after the second day of January next succeeding the date of said bonds, and an even annual proportion of the principal sum thereof shall be payable by coupon on the 2nd day of January every year after their date until the whole is paid, and the interest shall be payable semi-annually by coupon on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, at the rate of seven (7) per cent per annum on all sums unpaid, until the whole of said principal and interest are paid. Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27th, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto, or amendatory thereof.

SECTION 3. The GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution of Intention, and notice of the passage thereof, shall be published in the manner and by the persons required by law.

Mrs. Isabel Dimmick of Omaha surprised Mrs. Beers' household, on Belmont street, Tuesday. Mrs. Dimmick visited Glendale six years ago, staying with Mrs. N. F. Reynolds on Third street. Hale and rested, "brown as a berry," and chock full of praises for California, he returns to his home in New York City, there to resume his work as a teacher.

The Town Richelieu Designed.

Seldom has a town been more wholly the expression of its founder's will than Richelieu, the tiny square built town in the corner of Touraine and Poitou. It is like some old Greek colony. The streets are cut at right angles. The towers, the church, the private houses, are all wonderful examples of the purest Louis XIII. style. They were all built at the same time in accordance with the cardinal's plan to form a city by the little chateau which is supposed to have been the scene of his birth in 1585. Whether this be so or not (for another tradition places his birth at Paris), Richelieu was the place the cardinal loved and strove to dignify by founding a new town. He approved the plans of a square walled city with six gates, gave exemption from taxes to those inhabitants who built the first hundred houses and built for himself outside a marvelous chateau, rivaling the state of the king, which has since been destroyed.—Westminster Gazette.

Bay Tree Beliefs.

Long before the time of Shakespeare the bay tree was an object of superstition. The withering of such a tree was believed to be a sure indication of coming misfortune to those with whom it was in any way connected. Shakespeare gave voice to the superstition in "Richard II." when he made one of his characters say:

"Tis thought the king is dead; we'll not stay—
The bay trees in our country are withered.

It was thought by the ancients that lightning would never harm this tree, and it was customary among them to carry bay leaves as a charm against the thunderbolts of Jove. The same belief was long prevalent in England, and reference to it may be found in an old poem dedicated to Ben Jonson:

I see that wreathe which doth the wearer arme
'Gainst the quick stroakes of thunder is no charm
To keep off death's pale dart.

The Magic of a Siphon.

When a pipe shaped like the inverted letter U, in which the arms are of equal length, is filled with water and each end of the pipe is put into a separate vessel full of water "the downward pull," or weight, of the liquid in each of the two arms will balance the other, and if the water is at the same level in the two vessels it will remain at that level in both vessels. But if the level of the water in one vessel is lower than in the other, since the two vessels are connected with a pipe full of water, the water will run down from the higher level to the lower. This constitutes what is called a siphon. A siphon itself has no more magic about it than a pencil has when it falls or than any other similar phenomenon in nature, yet some of the siphon's manifestations seem to be not only magical, but almost incredible.—St. Nicholas.

Forgery In Ancient Greece.

Dactyl is Greek for finger, and from this the word dactyliography, to apply to a knowledge of finger rings, has been accepted, though evidently a misfit. Rings as signets hark back to ancient Egypt, from which country they probably came to Greece. Solon, the Greek lawgiver, who died 558 years before the Christian era, enacted a law that no engraver or cutter of signet rings should keep by him the impression of any ring he had cut. As these rings were used to sign documents of various kinds, this law was intended to prevent fraud and forgery.

Humble Pie.

There is a queer twist of language in the phrase "to eat humble pie." The word "humble" is a corrupted form of the original "numble," which is an inedible part of the carcass of a deer and would make very poor pie. The words "humble pie" have the same original meaning as "to eat crow," a phrase common in political life. There is an enforced humility in this process, and the change from "numble" to "humble" introduced a thought which harmonized with the idea sought to be expressed. The last form of the phrase has entirely supplanted the original.

A Famous Widow.

One of the most famous widows of antiquity was Agrippina, the widow of Germanicus. During the lifetime of her husband she attended him in all his campaigns and shared his dangers. Suspecting that her husband had been poisoned, she had his presumed murderer assassinated and was herself soon after treated with such indignity by Tiberius that she was driven to despair and starved herself to death.

Climate and Speech.

It is a curious suggestion that a country's speech may be dependent on the average of the temperature in that country. Yet such a suggestion has been seriously offered by a distinguished British scientist who has been engaged in research in Tibet. He ascribes the excessive use of consonants in the speech of Tibet to the intense cold that prevails in that land. A peculiarity of the language of the Tibetans, in common with that of the Russians and most arctic regions, is the existence of remarkably few vowels in their words and an extraordinarily large number of consonants. Indeed, this authority points out, so full of consonants are the Tibetan words that most of them could be articulated with almost semiclosed mouth, a circumstance that evidently proceeds from the enforced necessity in that region of keeping one's lips closed as far as possible against the cutting cold when speaking.—Exchange.

A Definition.

An amusing illustration of giving a definition that itself needed to be defined—a frequent occurrence, by the way—is instanced in the case of a southern witness and a lawyer. Some matter of boundary was in question, and a certain witness, animated with a laudable desire to make things smooth, turned to the judge with the confidential remark:

"You see, your honor, that there house always was cattawampus."

"What did the witness say?" asked the learned judge, not quite certain that he had heard aright.

Whereupon a smart young lawyer jumped up and explained with a patronizing air, half for the judge who couldn't understand plain English, half for the ignorant witness who couldn't choose more elegant language:

"Your honor, the witness said cattawampus, but what he meant to signify was that the house was built snatchwise."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Oriental Justice.

A young man going a journey intrusted a hundred dinars to an old man. When he came back the old man denied having had any money deposited with him, and he was had up before the Khazee. "Where were you, young man, when you delivered this money?" "Under a tree." "Take my seal and summon that tree," said the judge. "Go, young man, and tell the tree to come hither, and the tree will obey you when you show it my seal." The young man went in wonder. After he had been gone some time the Khazee said to the old man, "He is long—do you think he has got there yet?" "No," said the old man; "it is at some distance. He has not got there yet." "How knowest thou, old man," cried the Khazee, "where that tree is?" The young man returned and said the tree would not come. "He has been here, young man, and given his evidence. The money is thine."—Oriental.

Seven Days In a Year.

At the examination of pupils in an English primary school the inspector put questions at random to the scholars. Among the latter was a towheaded lad who, on being asked how many days there are in a year, answered, "Seven." When the tittering of the rest of the class subsided the inspector remarked: "I said a year, not a week. Now try it again. How many days are there in a year?" The lad appeared nonplused and vexed for a moment, then ejaculated: "Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Sunday—just seven. If there's others I never heard of 'em.'"

The Clever Osteopath.

A certain osteopath was treating a young lady who had very weak ankles and wrists. As she lived in a town quite a distance from his own city he was forced to leave the city Saturday of each week and go to the town in which the young lady lived, give her the treatment on Sunday and return to the office on Monday. A friend once asked the osteopath how he had arranged to give the young lady the treatments for her ankles and wrists when she lived at such a distance, and the osteopath replied, "Oh, I go out and treat her week ends."—Lippincott's.

Moisture and Temperature.

A cubic foot of air at the temperature of zero (F.) can obtain only .5 of a grain of water vapor, at 32 degees it can hold 2.13 gains, at 65 it can contain 6.8 grains, and at 98 it can hold 18.96 grains of moisture in suspension. These figures go to show that summe air can hold at least nine times the quantity of dampness that air can when reduced to the temperature of freezing.

Medical Etiquette.

Medical etiquette, instead of being kept up, as people so often imagine, in the interests of the doctors, is maintained in the interests of the public. It is they, not the doctors, who would suffer most were it done away with.—London Spectator.

The Milk In the Cocoanut.

A correspondent of the New York Sun, referring to an inquiry respecting the origin and meaning of the saying, "This accounts for the milk in the cocoanut," says that an answer may be found in the practice remarked by Captain Marryat in one of his novels on the occasion of a ship's visiting the West Indies, as follows:

On the ship's arrival the bumboat women would flock to its side, plentifully supplied with cocoanuts, which were eagerly sought by the sailors, and on the occasion described by the author one of the ship's officers had selected a cocoanut, and the bumboat woman eagerly interfered to prevent his receiving the one he had selected, saying, "That not for officer; that for sailor." The officer's curiosity being aroused, he asked for a cocoanut "for officer" and at the same time insisted upon getting the one originally selected by him. On opening the two the one "for officer" was found to be in its natural state, containing the so called milk, whereas the one "for sailor" was found to have had its milk removed and the place thereof supplied by rum. Further examination disclosed that all of the cocoanuts "for sailor" had thus been treated.

April In Western Europe.

April is one of the driest months in the whole year in England. In the southeast of England, including London and its surrounding counties, the average April rainfall is only 1.64 inch. That of March, reputed the driest month, is 1.46, while May's rainfall is nearly a quarter of an inch in excess of April's. Not only is April a dry but also a very cold month. April 10th to 15th is a notoriously cold period.

All over the western part of Europe April is a month which is justly dreaded for its severity. Even in Spain this is the case. In central Spain there is an old story that a shepherd promised March a lamb if he would temper the winds to suit his flocks. March did so, but the faithless shepherd failed to keep his promise. In revenge March borrowed three days from April, which were worse weather than any experienced in March.—London Answers.

Jam Started as Medicine.

Jam in its early days seems to have been regarded as possessing medicinal properties. Galt in "Annals of the Parish" notes "a new luxury that got in among the commonalty about 1760. By our young men that were sailors going to Jamaica and the West Indies heaps of sugar and coffee beans were brought home, while many, among the cabbages in their yards, had planted berry bushes, which two things happening together the fashions of making jam and jelly came to be introduced into the village. It was found that jelly was an excellent medicine for a sore throat and jam a remedy as good as London candy for a cough or a cold or a shortness of breath." Did it ever occur to you that "jam" was abbreviated from Jamaica?—London Spectator.

Baseball Puzzled the Englishman.

"In St. Louis some years ago," writes a Kansas City man, "I took a dignified Englishman to his first ball game. Big, good natured Robinson was catching. Behind him and near us a youth of about twelve was delivering a choice variety of rooting from the grand stand, to the evident puzzlement of my companion. 'Good boy, Robby!' was a frequent cry of the youngster.

"Restraining his curiosity for a time, finally, on inquiry, the Briton learned that probably no acquaintance existed between the catcher and the lad. 'Dear me!' he ejaculated. 'What assurance, for that small boy to address that large gentleman so familiarly.'

"Shortly afterward the players surrounded the umpire, gesticulating angrily in dispute over a decision.

"'What is it?' the visitor asked.

"'They're kicking at the umpire,' I explained.

"'Fancy that!' said he. 'But, don't you know, I have not seen a man lift his foot.'"—Kansas City Star.

Disturbing Albert.

A pianist had moved into a new apartment house, and the first morning she started to play there came a tap at the door, and the pianist upon opening it was confronted by a tearful woman who begged her not to play again until dear little Albert got better, because a piano did get on his nerves so. Being a kind hearted woman with children of her own, the pianist readily consented. Three days later she said to the janitress: "How is that little boy down stairs? Is he any better?"

"What little boy?" said the janitress.

"Albert—I don't know the rest of his name."

"Oh, him," said the janitress. "He ain't a boy. He's a dog."

And then the pianist, although she had a soft spot in her heart for dogs, resumed her playing.—New York Press.

Most Important Event.

"What do you consider the most important event in the history of Paris?"

"Well," replied the tourist who had grown weary of distributing tips, "so far as financial prosperity is concerned, I should say the discovery of America was the making of this town."—Washington Herald.

Good News.

Cashier—Have you heard, sir, that John Jones is a bankrupt? Banker—Well, that's good news. We will now get a little of what he owes us, whereas, if he had remained in business, we never would have got a cent.—Fliegende Blatter.

READ HISTORY IN THE MAKING

HISTORY IS BEING MADE DAY BY DAY, EXACTLY SUCH HISTORY AS TELLS THE ADVANCEMENT OF THE HUMAN RACE, AND THIS NEWSPAPER CHRONICLES IT DAY BY DAY AS IT HAPPENS.

Could anything be more interesting or more important? Can any living man afford to let events pass without knowing about them?

Every man, woman and child who can read should read one paper at least and should read it regularly and carefully. Justice to himself, to his neighbors, to his country and to future generations demands this. Every man should know what is going on. He should read THIS NEWSPAPER.

DON'T BLAME YOUR SHOES
It's the arch of the foot that causes Corns, Bunions, Calluses, Weak Back, Headache and a hundred other distresses. And yet folks persist in throwing away money trying to get shoes to overcome troubles that shoes are not responsible for. Step in and ask for a pair of Scholl's "Foot-Eazers." Wear them and you'll simply be astonished to find how long you can stand, and how far you can walk without your feet bothering you.

Suggestive Questions

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott For the International Press Bible Question Club.

Sept. 8, 1912.

[Copyright, 1911, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.]

The Mission of the Twelve. Matt. ix:35—x:15; x:40—xi:1.

Golden Text—He that receiveth you receiveth me, and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me. Matt. x:40.

(1.) Verse 35—If Jesus were to come to the world again to preach under present day conditions would he confine himself to a pastorate or would he travel about preaching, as he did before? Why?

(2.) Jesus' mission and that of his apostles was to heal alike the bodies and souls of men. Why should that not also be the mission of all Christian workers today?

(3.) Verse 36—What measure of importance must we give to "compassion," or heartfelt pity, for the unsaved masses in order to bringing about their salvation?

(4.) Verses 37-38—What is the evidence today that "the harvest truly is plenteous" and that "the laborers are few?"

(5.) In what way can you demonstrate that prayer will increase the number of missionaries and hasten the salvation of the world?

(6.) What can the churches and we as individuals do more than we are doing to bring about the salvation of sinners?

(7.) x:1—Did Jesus give the same power in those days to all his disciples as he did to the twelve?

(8.) What is the limit of the power which Christ gives today to ministers and other active Christians?

(9.) What evidence can you give, if any, that there are those today which have the power to cure disease without medicine?

(10.) What evidence can you give that all Christians have the power and do cast out unclean spirits?

(11.) Verses 2-4—Can you repeat from memory the names of the twelve apostles?

(12.) Who became the outstanding members of the apostolic company?

(13.) Verses 5-6—Why were the twelve forbidden to work among the Gentiles and to confine themselves to the house of Israel?

(14.) Apart from other reasons, what wise diplomacy was there in getting the Jews to accept Christ before preaching him to the Gentiles?

(15.) Verses 7-8—What is the best news the world has ever heard?

(16.) What has the preaching of the gospel accomplished for the world? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(17.) Apart from the miraculous curing of the sick, the deaf, the dumb, the blind and the insane, what has Christianity done and what is it still doing for these unfortunates?

(18.) Verses 9-10—Would Jesus have given them the same instructions, to take no money with them to pay their expenses, if he had sent them to a Gentile nation?

(19.) Verses 11-15—Why does the obligation still rest upon us to liberally support the gospel with our means?

(20.) Verses 40-xi:1—What sure rewards come to us through receiving the messengers of Christ?

Reporters' Blunders.

Addressing a London audience, Lord Tweedmouth, in reviewing the Marquis of Salisbury's foreign policy, quoted Bismarck's famous description of the marquis, "A lath painted to look like iron." Perhaps it was Lord Tweedmouth's enunciation that caused the mistake. Anyhow, the reporter wrote that Lord Tweedmouth went on to criticise the foreign policy of the government and described the Marquis of Salisbury as a lark painted to look like a lion!

Mr. Chamberlain was the victim on another occasion of a somewhat amusing error of a similar order. He had alluded to the Figaro of Beaumarchais, but the last word was transformed when it appeared in print into "Bon Marche."

When, again, Lord Salisbury quoted Lord Morley's famous phrase, "manacles and Manitoba," in which he summed up what appeared then to be the Unionist policy for Ireland, the expression came out in print as "manacles and men at the bar."—Pearson's.

Swat the Fly!

"Everybody's Doin' It Now"

PREVENT THE FLY FROM BREEDING.

Screen stables if possible.

Remove the manure at least twice a week.

Keep the manure while it is in the stable in a closed bin or pit.

Every time the stalls are cleaned and the manure placed in the pit or bin sprinkle it with dry plaster (powdered gypsum) or slaked lime.

Be sure that you sprinkle the cracks and crevices of the bin or pit, as well as the cracks between the planking of the stall floors.

If flies begin to breed in stored manure they may be killed by thoroughly spraying it with kerosene or paris green and then pouring on enough water to wash the oil or poison well in.

Remember that fourteen days elapse between emergence of the adult fly and egg laying.

Placing of Building Stone.

It is, generally speaking, the rule of masons that stone used in building should be so placed that it will be as it lay in its natural bed when quarried. This familiar rule is not, however, always to be depended upon and in many cases needs to be supplemented with other precautions. There are three planes of fracture known to quarrymen. The "rift" is the direction in which stone splits most easily; the "grain" that which is next easiest; the "head" that which offers greatest resistance. In a paving block the two sides represent the rift fracture, the top and bottom the grain and the ends the head. But in a quarry the natural bed is sometimes considerably inclined to the plane of the rift; hence the imperfection of the ordinary rule for placing stone in building.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Heart and Lungs.

The action of the heart, lungs and digestive system is involuntary, for the reason that it is indispensable to life and must be carried on under all circumstances. If a man had to think of his heart or had to remember that he must breathe or that his food must digest he would have no time to do anything else, and if by chance he should forget to keep his heart going or his lungs in operation he would fall dead on the spot.

TROPICO

Seven new and modern homes averaging in value about $2500, have been completed on Gardena avenue in the Richardson tract.

C. C. Rittenhouse, jr., returned early this week from Salmon City, Wy., where he had been passing several weeks taking care of his large ranch there.

Zeela Cherry of San Diego is enjoying a visit of several weeks with her cousin, Miss Edna Vincent, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. W. Carnes on Central avenue.

The Ladies' Aid of the Tropico Methodist church held an all-day meeting in the church last Tuesday. The day was spent in needlework, and at noon a luncheon was served.

Registered voters of Tropico qualified to vote in this city number 771,359 being in Precinct No. 1, and 412 in Precinct No. 2. At Tuesday's election about one-fourth of this number voted.

After passing four weeks touring in eastern states, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hibbert of Brand boulevard, have returned to their home, delighted with their trip, but glad to get back to little old Tropico.

A pretty affair was given recently by Mrs. E. F. Bennett at her home on Central avenue. Among the guests present were Mesdames William W. Dunham, James R. Maxwell, S. A. Ayers, S. Lamphier, Jacob Eddleman and E. Bennett, sr.

The Valdeu property at the corner of El Benita and Gardena avenue, has been leased by Claus Findley, superintendent of the Independent Sewer Pipe company, a branch of the Tropico Art Tile company, and has taken possession with his family.

M. G. Coughan has sold to Dan Johnson, chief clerk of the Salt Lake ticket office in Los Angeles, one of the new bungalows erected recently at 230 South Central avenue. This party also sold to Dr. E. T. Greenwalt a home at 331 Gardena avenue, who with his family has taken possession of the property.

J. P. Scott of Glendale avenue, who is a salesman in the Mullen & Bluett store at Sixth street and Broadway, Los Angeles, has just returned from a vacation trip of about a month. His sister, Miss Nellie Scott, after enjoying an extended trip of several months in the East, is again at her home at this place.

Next Saturday a sale of household goods will be held in the Tropico Mercantile Store on San Fernando road and Central avenue by the young ladies of the Tropico Presbyterian Sunday school. The proceeds will go toward helping to pay off the pledge made by the girls toward the building fund of the church.

In the matter of the bridge over the barranca on East Cypress street, City Engineer Lynch has reported that the estimated cost of said work is $750, and the required assessment on the district to be benefited by the bridge to be 20 cents per front foot. It is probable that the improvement and the district will be assessed.

Ground was broken Monday for the new store room being erected just north of the present Gabaig block on San Fernando road. This will be erected by Mr. Gabaig. At this time it will be a one-story structure, but a foundation will be laid whereby a second floor may be added at any time, the intention of the builder being to put on this second floor just as soon as it is found necessary.

Under the recent law of Congress the postmaster of Los Angeles and branch offices, including Tropico and Glendale, is ordered to close the general delivery and carriers' windows as well as the lock boxes between the hours of 12 o'clock noon Saturday until Sunday nights. There will be no distribution of mail in boxes from and after this date during these hours, or mail of any kind except special delivery.

Fire destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gregory at 420 West Tenth street, last Sunday evening. The fire was discovered at 1 o'clock, long after the members of the family had retired. A few personal effects were saved, but other than that the place was destroyed. Mr. Gregory states that had he had a water force suitable for a small garden hose the house could have been saved when it was first discovered. An effort to secure any members of the fire departments of the city of Glendale failed.

At the meeting held last Friday evening in the city hall in reference to the purchasing of the Tropico water system, nothing was done except talk. It is understood that the city trustees refuse to call an election to vote bonds to purchase this system without they are assured that if called the election will carry. The trustees are in favor of buying out the plant, but unless they are shown positively that the bonds will carry they refuse to put the city to the expense of the election.

WHITE ROSE DINNER PARTY.

Most dainty in its appointments was the family dinner party given by Mrs. Anna L. Smith at her home, Quinta Ana, on Riverdale Drive, towards the close of the week. Quantities of white Kaiserin roses and myrtle foliage were used in an effective manner for decorative purposes. Covers were arranged for Rev. and Mrs. Cheney of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. R. Z. Imler of Tropico, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Imler of Imperial, Mr. and Mrs. George Pence, of Pasadena, and Mr. A. O. Pence of Alhambra.

San Jacinto's New Water Discovery a Wonder

The recent Water Discovery and Development at the foot of Mt. San Jacinto attracts outside attention Engineers and Water Experts of three States seek data on Citizens Water Company's model plan of development Conditions are pronounced exceptional, and system ideal, with phenomenal possibilities for further development.

Many new and interesting theories have been advanced and proven in this development. Even the two narrow streaks of clay, called the Italian Wash and Indian Creek, which crosscut the upper part of the valley (meaning little to the untrained eye), play an important part in creating the source of this immense water supply. For centuries these two little gullies have been pulling down the clay from the surrounding hills and depositing its putty-like formation, layer upon layer, along their entire course, slowly but surely building the great submerged dike or dam, sufficient in length and depth to retain the millions of inches of water that is today stored in the great subterranean lake, proven to exist above its wall. This great reservoir has existed for centuries, and will continue to exist for as many more. The out-cropping of surface water, called the cienega, immediately above this dike, gave mute evidence of this impoundment, and supplied the incentive for its full exploitation. The existence of this dike was proven by placing a series of test wells along its lower or west side. No perceptible water supply was obtainable at three hundred feet in these holes, while in a corresponding string of holes directly opposite to these, but above the dike, flowing water in unlimited quantities was obtained in every case within a few feet of the surface. Many hundreds of test holes were placed over an area of five square miles, with the same result as the latter, proving conclusively that this supply is not only inexhaustible, but that it is separate and distinct from other water supplies in the valley.

Miles of submerged pipe line, with perforations on top side, to admit the percolating waters, are already in commission, conveying the flow by gravity from every direction to the Company's immense head gates, or main lines of distribution.

We wish to state to our readers, especially those who are seeking locations, that this is truly an exceptional condition for this country, and can have but one meaning, unparalleled and continued prosperity for this beautiful little valley, and a snug fortune for all who are lucky enough to secure a share of its rare offerings at even double the price obtainable at this time. For further information address the San Jacinto Board of Trade, San Jacinto, Cal.

CASA VERDUGO AND NORTH GLENDALE

It takes a six-cylinder automobile, latest model, with driver, to induce the electors to exercise the franchise these days.

C. O. Pulliam of Glendale has purchased a villa home site of 1½ acres in the Richards tract, half mile west of Central avenue on Kenneth road.

J. R. Nash has sold the 6-room bungalow at the northeast corner of Ruth and Pacific avenues, to Jno. L. Palmer of Los Angeles, for a consideration of $2900.

The primary election on Tuesday was a very quiet affair in this precinct. Less than a third of the registered vote was cast, being 172 out of a possible 597.

F. E. Balthis has bought of S. O. Cook of San Luis Obispo, lot 13, block 1, Thompson tract, on Maryland avenue between Randolph and Mountain for a private cash consideration.

H. A. Michel has sold his place, No. 829 Lincoln Place, a six-room bungalow on lot 7 of the Dell tract, to W. Personage, who has a position with the Santa Fe railway, Los Angeles, for the consideration of $2800.

Fairchild Bros., Glendale architects, have been given the contract for the plans and specifications of the North Glendale grammar school at Central avenue and Dryden streets, and are now engaged in completing them.

N. C. Kelley has leased the house at 1121 Melrose avenue, to Jared Wenger of Los Angeles, secretary of Southern California Retail Hardware and Implement Dealers' Association with offices in the Trust and Savings building.

Cards are out for the wedding of Emma Sylvana Alice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Menzo Williams of Central avenue, to Mr. Harry Warner Peterson, Tuesday, Sept. 17, 1912, at 12 noon, in Christ Episcopal church, Los Angeles.

W. J. Rice of the Pepper Tree Inn, has let the contract, in behalf of his sister of Colorado Springs, Colo., for a story and a half house on Maryland avenue, 120 feet north of Randolph street, facing east. Ground was broken the 3rd inst.

Mr. Bert C. Hinman, steward of the Valley Hunt Club, Pasadena, celebrated his forty-fourth birthday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Anna Hinman on Lorraine street. He brought with him and shared with his friends a sumptuous birthday cake, presented to him at the club.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Young of Brand boulevard near Arden avenue, have departed for a trip to Oregon. Mr. Young is a member of the $10,000,000 company that has organized to market the potash discovered in solution in an Oregon lake. Thousands of tons a year of pure potash may be obtained by the simple process of evaporation in vats 1000 acres in area.

Mr. Jas. McMillan, general manager of the Pacific Electric, entertained a party of friends at Boulderhurst, Mountain avenue, followed by a ride in his private car, of 100 miles, over the P. E. lines. The guests, all from Texas, were Judge and Mrs. T. D. Cobbs of San Antonio, Tex., a Gould road attorney; Mrs. R. Carter of San Antonio, Col. Niles, U.S.A. (retired) of Fort Sam Houston.

Pepper Tree Inn registry shows the following arrivals: J. T. Brown and wife, San Francisco; Thos. Harris and wife, Redondo; W. H. Jones and wife, Merced; A. Miller and wife, San Francisco; Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Nagle and Mrs. A. P. Wheeler, Los Angeles; Geo. Prof. Geo. E. Larkey, and Mrs. Marie A. Larkey of Valley View road, have purchased of Emilie A. Stanchfield, of Los Angeles, a 47½-acre ranch, five miles north of Burbank, in the foot hills on the road to Sunland, for a consideration of $8500. Prof. Larkey, who will, however, retain his position as principal of the Seventh street school, Los Angeles, plans to engage extensively in the orange nursery business, besides making his ranch one of the show places of the San Fernando valley. The location of the property—a beautiful amphitheater, with fertile soil to the crest of the encircling ridges, adapts it to landscape improvement of the best character.

CAUGHT AT LAST.

Andy Robertson Yields to Cupid.

Dan Cupid achieved a notable victory when his amative shaft struck the heretofore invulnerable spot beneath the lapel of Andrew Robertson's coat. When this redoubtable captain of the very citadel struck his colors, consternation reigned supreme in the rank and file of single masculine hearts as the very foundations of the "Order" were shaken.

This distinguished member has been under "suspicion," however, for some time by those familiar with the "symptoms," of which fact Andy was probably aware, when it required his skilled astuteness to escape the cordon ready to be thrown around him at a moment's notice. At Pacific Grove last week, Mr. Robertson and Anna Louise Jones were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson S. Stutor, whose eastern residence is at Fort Wayne, Ind. Returning via Del Monte and Santa Barbara, spending a few days at each place, Mr. and Mrs. Robertson registered Monday evening at the Pepper Tree Inn, where Mr. Robertson has domiciled for the past year and a half. Bride and groom were received by congratulations and showers with rice by mine host Fitch and assembled friends. The permanent home of the happy couple will be in the new two-story house on Mr. Robertson's property, northeast corner of Stocker and Louise streets, ground for which was broken on the first inst., and construction work rapidly proceeding.

Mrs. Robertson is an acquisition to Casa Verdugo society circles, being an accomplished musician and impressing all with the charm of her personality.

Mr. Robertson enjoys the friendship of legions through his position as deputy county clerk in charge of the law department, and his membership in the Jonathan Club, Golden West Commandery, Knights Templars, of which he is recorder, a Shriner, and member of the Arab Patrol, all of whom will no doubt be soon heard from.

Charles Sissman and wife of 523 Oak visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lafferty of Brubank Sunday.

Albert Simpson of Chicago returned home last week from a visit with his cousin, Mrs. Grace Hurd, 1547 Oak street.

Dr. Elwood Robinson and family have returned to Glendale from Los Angeles and are now living at 1540 WestSixth.

A. J. Casebeer and family have moved into their beautiful new home at 1454 Lomita, and Mrs. C. P. Rock and daughters into the house they vacated, just across the street.

The mother of Mrs. Cyrus Bell of 789 Pacific avenue is very ill with stomach trouble. Mrs. Bell's daughter, from El Centro, is visiting here and helping care for her grandmother.

Glendale, and particularly this part of it, is far behind many small Eastern cities in its indifference to the comfort of pedestrians who use the sidewalks. Trees in the parkways are allowed to grow and spread in any old way until it is difficult for two persons to walk abreast in many places. And in the winter season the wet branches make it very uncomfortable walking. Property owners should be compelled to keep their trees trimmed so that the branches will none of them droop lower than eight feet from the walk.

Milton Hesse, contractor, recently bargained for Mrs. Colton's place, 1601 Pacific, agreeing to build her a $3,500 house in Los Angeles as the consideration. A day or two later he sold the place.

Earl Bond and wife of 1557 Vine street, accompanied by James Manning, Mrs. Bond's father, and Gladys and Dale Manning, her sister and brother, went to Ocean Park Monday for a few days' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Morgan and daughter Elizabeth have moved from 509 Columbus to 1509 Hawthorne, and Mrs. Pixley, who occupied the latter place while the Morgans were in her own home, 509 Columbus, has returned to it.

Valley View patrons have paid for their ornamental electric lights, and they will maybe get them in a year or two, just as the widely scattered victims of the widening of Brand avenue will see it widened by the time the Panama canal opens—maybe.

"Get it at Nesom's" is a very popular phrase nowadays. Everybody seems to be saying it—and well they might, for he has everything you might call for that is usually kept in a drug store, whether it be the oldest or newest.

W. C. T. U. NOTES.
